

A LEVEL HISTORY

WHAT DO I NEED TO STUDY THIS COURSE?

The entry requirements for this course are 5 GCSE's including grade 6s in English Language and History

IS THIS COURSE FOR ME?

This course is for you if you are interested in the study of the past. It examines the political, economic, social and cultural issues of different era and cultures. At its most ambitious, the subject is the study of everything. This course is also for you want to know how and why the world came to be as it is today. History asks 'how did things get to be this way?' This course focuses on elements of British, Russian and European history.

WHERE WILL THIS COURSE TAKE ME?

History students can go on to specialise in a particular area of History in Higher Education, such as European, Modern or Ancient History. The skills learnt will stand you in good stead for other rewarding careers such as in law (historical skills gained at A level are vital for this), teaching, banking and finance, journalism and Archaeology. Some world leaders such as former Prime Minister Gordon Brown have history degrees, so the world can be your oyster!

WHAT WILL I LEARN?

1H Tsarist and Communist Russia, 1855–1964

This option allows students to study in breadth issues of change, continuity, cause and consequence in this period through the following key questions:

- How was Russia governed and how did political authority change and develop?
- Why did opposition develop and how effective was it?
- How and with what results did the economy develop and change?
- What was the extent of social and cultural change?
- How important were ideas and ideology?
- How important was the role of individuals and groups and how were they affected by developments?
